

MULTIPLE PATHWAYS & SUPPORT SERVICES

The Office of Multiple Pathways & Support Services is committed to provide programming and school choices to help every student earn a high school diploma.

What's new in 2011-2012:

- JWJ ACT Center – The former James Weldon Johnson facility is being converted into a community-based full-service center to aid in neighborhood revitalization, including programs for over-age middle school students and re-entry program for students returning to school
- Middle Grades STAR – Designed as a continuation of Elementary STAR, this program provides both remediation & acceleration for over-age middle school students with an emphasis on intensive reading and math instruction.
- Graduation Initiative at DBI – As many high schools scale back their GI programs, the initiative is now being offered at several Drop Back In Academy sites
- Schools for the Future at the Bridge – A comprehensive program for overage students 14-17 that are 2 or more years behind and may need remedial work in core areas, and includes full-time student advocates
- Revised Elementary STAR Model – Now includes a full-time paraprofessional for each classroom and a central admissions process, with priority given to tier 3 students
- Student Advocates – Two part-time professionals dedicated to providing program and support for student referrals from school-based teachers and administrators
- Expanded TeamUp – Jacksonville Children's Commission is adding three more full-service 5-day sites in Westside elementary schools
- Virtual Instruction – All students in grades K-12 can now receive full & part-time virtual education through collaboration of home and school.
